Dear Friends,

As the Member of Parliament for Vancouver Quadra, and the Minister of Fisheries, Oceans, and the Canadian Coast Guard, it is my distinct pleasure to offer greetings at this inaugural event, hosted by the Local Conference of Youth (LCOY) Canada.

I am always excited to learn about young people who are actively seeking out ways to make a difference in their communities and around the world. As we know, the climate crisis does not respect borders, it is a global phenomenon. It is vital that younger generations are engaged in identifying problems and providing solutions to help protect our precious planet.

While this event is virtual, I have no doubt that you will hear from knowledgeable speakers who are leaders in their fields. Take the time to learn, ask meaningful questions, share ideas, and explore how you can further be impactful in fighting climate change.

I know that this will be a great event and I wish you all a successful conference.

Warm regards,
